

Very train after 10pm

Personnel from GRP, RPF will be present in second-class compartments till 6am

BEST TO RUN MORE WOMEN'S SPECIAL BUSES ON BUSY ROUTES

Prajakta Chavan Rane

prajakta.rane@hindustantimes.com

MUMBAI: To enhance safety of women travelling in buses, the Brihanmumbai Electricity Supply and Transport (BEST) undertaking has directed the traffic department to operate additional women's special buses during peak hours on crowded routes.

This will include areas such as CST, Churchgate, Kurla, Jogeshwari, Santacruz, Andheri and Bandra.

"We have instructed the chief manager, traffic, to operate additional special women's buses every 15-20 minutes if there are enough passengers during peak hours. The required assessment will be carried out by the traffic department to fix the schedule," said OP Gupta, BEST general manager.

The BEST undertaking has added four ladies special buses in its fleet since the start of the month.

The undertaking has also conducted a survey of around 3,500 bus shelters to check whether there is adequate lighting.

It has even instructed that BEST and police helpline numbers be displayed inside the buses.

"The instructions given for enhancing safety of women passengers should be in place by February 1. In addition, CCTV cameras will be also installed in all buses by March 31. Also, we are carrying out sensitisation programmes for our outdoor staff with the help of NGOs," said Gupta.

Currently, 2,082 buses have CCTV camera, while the remaining will be fitted by the end of March.

THE BEST UNDERTAKING HAS ADDED FOUR WOMEN'S SPECIAL BUSES TO ITS FLEET SINCE THE BEGINNING OF THE MONTH

Most juvenile delinquents are booked for petty crimes: study

Menaka Rao

menaka.rao@hindustantimes.com

MUMBAI: While the debate about reducing the age for juvenile delinquents rages on in the country, child rights activists claim that most children are booked by the police for petty crimes such as theft or unlawful assembly.

According to the National Crime Records Bureau (NCRB), theft, robbery and dacoity constitute 69.54% of cases in Maharashtra.

Many of the juvenile boys booked for rape are children under 18 who elope and marry without the approval of their parents.

This was stated in a 2008 study in Maharashtra on the status of justice delivery system for juveniles in conflict with law, authored by Asha Mukundan, assistant professor, Tata Institute of Social Sciences (Tiss).

The study was submitted to the Justice Verma commission in the first week of January 2013. "It is an unfair system where a boy is charged as being a rapist, while the girl he elopes with is a child in need of care and protection," said Mukundan.

"For a rarest of rare case like the one in Delhi, we cannot reduce the age for classifying a juvenile under the Juvenile Justice Act," she said.

According to the NCRB, only 1.1% of the total cognisable offences in the country have been allegedly committed by juveniles. In Maharashtra, rape comprised 2.6% of total juvenile crimes in 2011.

Mukundan's study found that a large number of children were booked as accomplices to adults

THE FINDINGS

The Tiss study on the status of justice delivery system for juveniles in conflict with the law states

62% of the children booked in Maharashtra were either illiterate or had only completed primary education

Most of them had been booked for burglary or theft cases

When families are booked under section 498A of the Indian Penal Code (husband or relative of husband of a woman subjecting her to cruelty), children as young as 10 years old are also booked with the entire family.

Some children have been booked for attempting to commit suicide

At least one third of

ILLUSTRATION:
SHRIKRISHNA PATKAR

juveniles in conflict with the law were booked under section 34 (common intention) with adults as accomplices

The report states that children below the age of 14 should not be booked for such offences as interacting with the juvenile justice system has an impact on their psyche.

under section 34 (common intention) of the IPC.

Between the age group of 14 to 17 years, nearly 38.19% children booked were accused of having assisted in the crime. Among 18 years olds, 39.34% were booked as accomplices to adults.

The researchers accessed 6,380 files of juvenile cases disposed of between 2007 and 2008.

Some of the children who are charged with violent crimes, such as rape and murder need psychiatric help, said activists.

"We had a 14-year-old boy who had allegedly raped and killed a four-year-old girl. He was evaluated as having a psychiatric disorder and was released on bail on the condition that he will receive treatment at a psychiatric institution. In fact, the magistrate ordered that he spend Rs10,000 on his treatment. Such orders can really help children," said Vibhavari Kavale, project officer, Resource Cell for Juvenile Justice, Thane.

43-year-old school teacher booked for raping two girls

URAN: A 43-year-old school teacher from Uran has been booked for allegedly raping two girls. According to the Uran police, the accused, Datta Jadhav, was first arrested on Saturday after a 14-year old girl filed a complaint saying he touched her inappropriately. He was released on bail the next day. However, after a 13-year old filed a complaint against him, Jadhav was rearrested on Monday.

"The preliminary medical examination report revealed there is a possibility of rape in both cases, thus we have charged him with section 376," said an officer from Uran police station requesting anonymity.

The police also found nude pictures of the girls on Jadhav's cellphone, which has been sent to the Kalina forensic laboratory. He has been booked under relevant sections of the IPC and also the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences Act, 2012.

ABHISHEK DESAI

Very train after 10pm

Personnel from GRP, RPF will be present in second-class compartments till 6am

BEST TO RUN MORE WOMEN'S SPECIAL BUSES ON BUSY ROUTES

Prajakta Chavan Rane

prajakta.rane@hindustantimes.com

MUMBAI: To enhance safety of women travelling in buses, the Brihanmumbai Electricity Supply and Transport (BEST) undertaking has directed the traffic department to operate additional women's special buses during peak hours on crowded routes.

This will include areas such as CST, Churehgate, Kurla, Jogeshwari, Santacruz, Andheri and Bandra.

"We have instructed the chief manager, traffic, to operate additional special women's buses every 15-20 minutes if there are enough passengers during peak hours. The required assessment will be carried out by the traffic department to fix the schedule," said OP Gupta, BEST general manager.

The BEST undertaking has added four ladies special buses in its fleet since the start of the month.

The undertaking has also conducted a survey of around 3,500 bus shelters to check whether there is adequate lighting.

It has even instructed that BEST and police helpline numbers be displayed inside the buses.

"The instructions given for enhancing safety of women passengers should be in place by February 1. In addition, CCTV cameras will be also installed in all buses by March 31. Also, we are carrying out sensitisation programmes for

Most juvenile delinquents are booked for petty crimes: study

THE FINDINGS

The Tiss study on the status of justice delivery system for juveniles in conflict with the law states

62% of the children booked in Maharashtra were either illiterate or had only completed primary education

Most of them had been booked for burglary or theft cases

When families are booked under section 498A of the Indian Penal Code (husband or relative of husband of a woman subjecting her to cruelty), children as young as 10 years old are also booked with the entire family.

Some children have been booked for attempting to commit suicide

At least one third of

ILLUSTRATION: SHRIKRISHNA PATKAR

Juveniles in conflict with the law were booked under section 34 (common intention) with adults as accomplices

The report states that children below the age of 14 should not be booked for such offences as interacting with the juvenile justice system has an impact on their psyche.

chiatric help, said activists.

"We had a 14-year-old boy who had allegedly raped and killed a four-year-old girl. He was evaluated as having a psychiatric disorder and was released on bail on the condition that he will receive treatment at a psychiatric institution. In fact, the magistrate ordered that he spend Rs10,000 on his treatment. Such orders can really help children," said Vibhavari Kavale, project officer, Resource Call for Juvenile Justice, Thane.

under section 34 (common intention) of the IPC.

Between the age group of 14 to 17 years, nearly 38.19% children booked were accused of having assisted in the crime. Among 18 years olds, 39.34% were booked as accomplices to adults.

The researchers accessed 6,380 files of juvenile cases disposed of between 2007 and 2008.

Some of the children who are charged with violent crimes, such as rape and murder, need psy-

Menaka Rao

menaka.rao@hindustantimes.com

MUMBAI: While the debate about reducing the age for juvenile delinquents rages on in the country, child rights activists claim that most children are booked by the police for petty crimes such as theft or unlawful assembly.

According to the National Crime Records Bureau (NCRB), theft, robbery and dacoity constitute 69.54% of cases in Maharashtra.

Many of the juvenile boys booked for rape are children under 18 who elope and marry without the approval of their parents.

This was stated in a 2008 study in Maharashtra on the status of justice delivery system for juveniles in conflict with law, authored by Asha Mukundan, assistant professor, Tata Institute of Social Sciences (TISS).

The study was submitted to the Justice Verma commission in the first week of January 2013. "It is an unfair system where a boy is charged as being a rapist, while the girl he elopes with is a child in need of care and protection," said Mukundan.

"For a rarest of rare case like the one in Delhi, we cannot reduce the age for classifying a juvenile under the Juvenile Justice Act," she said.

According to the NCRB, only 1.1% of the total cognisable offences in the country have been allegedly committed by juveniles. In Maharashtra, rape comprised 2.6% of total juvenile crimes in 2011.

Mukundan's study found that a large number of children were booked as accomplices to adults